Direct Loans

A simple, convenient, flexible way to finance your education

Direct Loans

a better way to borrow

The Direct Loan Program: What Is It?

The Direct Loan Program is a Student Financial Assistance (SFA) program of the U.S. Department of Education that provides students with a simple, convenient, and flexible way to borrow money to pay for education after high school.

Schools that participate in the Direct Loan Program receive loan funds directly from the U.S. Department of Education and pay them to eligible* students.

Direct Loans are:

- SIMPLE — borrow directly from the federal government
- CONVENIENT — access Direct Loan resources and your account information online, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week
- FLEXIBLE — choose from four repayment options

How Do I Learn More About It?

Ask your school's financial aid administrator about this Student Financial Assistance (SFA) program of the U.S. Department of Education.

Are Direct Loans Right For You?

Before you decide to borrow money for your education, visit your school's financial aid office to learn about sources of financial aid that do not have to be repaid, such as scholarships or fellowships, grants, and work-study funds. If you do decide to borrow money, and you are eligible to receive Direct Loans,* you will benefit in several ways as described on the following pages.

 You are eligible to receive Direct Subsidized and Direct Unsubsidized Loans if you are enrolled at least half time at a school that participates in the Direct Loan Program and you meet other eligibility requirements for federal student aid programs. See your school's financial aid administrator for details. For Direct PLUS Loans and Direct Consolidation Loans, other eligibility requirements apply. Contact us for more information.*

Low Interest Loans

The Direct Loan Program offers four types of low interest loans:

- Direct Subsidized Loans, also called Federal Direct Stafford/Ford Loans, are awarded based on your financial need. Your school determines your financial need, in part, from the information you provide on your financial aid application. With a Direct Subsidized Loan, the federal government does not charge you interest before you begin repayment or during authorized periods of deferment (postponement of repayment).
- Direct Unsubsidized Loans, also called Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford/Ford Loans, are not awarded on the basis of need. If you are an eligible student, you may borrow up to the cost of your attendance minus any other financial aid you receive. However, you may not borrow more than the maximum annual amount. (See table below.) The federal government charges you interest from the time the loan is paid out to you until you pay the loan in full.
- Direct PLUS Loans help parents pay their dependent children's education expenses. Your parents may borrow up to the amount of your cost of attendance minus any other financial aid that you receive. The federal government charges your parents interest from the date the first disbursement is made until the loan is paid in full.
- Direct Consolidation Loans simplify repayment by combining one or more federal education loans into one new Direct Consolidation Loan. If you combine your loans into a Direct Consolidation Loan, you'll have only one loan, one lender, and one monthly payment.

Interest Rates for Direct Subsidized, Direct Unsubsidized, and Direct PLUS Loans are variable and may change each year of repayment. Interest rates for Direct Consolidation Loans are fixed. By law, interest rates will not exceed 8.25% for Direct Subsidized, Direct Unsubsidized, and Direct Consolidation Loans and 9% for Direct PLUS Loans.

Maximum Annual Loan Amounts for Direct Subsidized and Direct Unsubsidized Loans*

Borrower's Academic Level	Dependent Student	Independent Student
	Total Amount Subsidized & Unsubsidized	Total Amount Subsidized & Unsubsidized	Subsidized Loan Limits
1st year undergraduate	$2,625	$6,625	No more than $2,625 of this amount may be in subsidized loans
2nd year undergraduate	3,500	7,500	No more than $3,500 of this amount may be in subsidized loans
Subsequent years undergraduate	5,500	10,500	No more than $5,500 of this amount may be in subsidized loans
Graduate or professional student	N/A	18,500	No more than $8,500 of this amount may be in subsidized loans

*These are the maximum amounts that you can borrow for a full academic year. For periods of study that are shorter than an academic year, the maximum amounts you can borrow may be less. Your school's financial aid office will determine the specific amounts that you are eligible to borrow.

When you apply for federal student aid, your answers to certain questions will determine whether you're considered dependent or independent. See The Student Guide or your school's financial aid administrator for more information.

All graduate/professional students are considered independent.

Electronic Debiting

Electronic Debiting allows your bank to automatically deduct your monthly Direct Loan payments from your checking or savings account. There is no check or statement to mail, and your payments are always on time. In addition, as an incentive to use this convenient payment method, we offer a reduction in your interest rate.

Flexible Repayment Options

After you graduate, leave school, or drop below half-time enrollment, you have a six-month period, called the grace period, before you begin repayment on a Direct Subsidized or Direct Unsubsidized Loan. If you return to school at least half time before your grace period ends, repayment of your loan will again be delayed until six months after you leave school.

There is no grace period for Direct PLUS Loans. A parent borrower must begin repaying a Direct PLUS Loan shortly after the loan has been fully disbursed.

Repayment Plans

The Direct Loan Program offers four repayment plans. You select the one that's right for your financial circumstances,* and you may switch repayment plans at any time without penalty by contacting our Borrower Services Department.

- The Standard Repayment Plan requires fixed monthly payments (at least $50) for up to 10 years. The length of the repayment period depends on the amount you owe when your loans enter repayment.
- The Extended Repayment Plan allows loan repayment to be extended over a period of 12 to 30 years, depending on the total amount you owe when your loans enter repayment. You'll still pay a fixed amount each month (at least $50), but your monthly payments will be less than they would be under the Standard Repayment Plan because you can take more than 10 years to repay.
- The Graduated Repayment Plan allows payments to start at one level and increase every two years. The repayment period varies from 12 to 30 years depending on the total amount you owe when your loans enter repayment. This plan may be helpful if your income starts out low but will increase steadily.
- The Income Contingent Repayment Plan bases monthly payments on your yearly income, family size, and loan amount. As your income rises or falls each year, so do your payments. After 25 years, any remaining balance on the loan will be forgiven, but you may have to pay taxes on the amount forgiven.

Direct PLUS Loan (including Direct PLUS Consolidation Loan) borrowers may choose only the Standard, Extended or Graduated Repayment Plan. Direct PLUS Loans may not be repaid under the Income Contingent Repayment Plan.*

Prepayment

You may prepay your loan—that is, pay your entire loan or make a payment larger than agreed upon—at any time without penalty.
